MESSAGE ARTICLE – FEBRUARY 2017

Rabbi Shae J. Kane D.D.

February reminds us of Brotherhood/Sisterhood Month and it is a time upon which we reflect on relationships to our neighbors who have different religious beliefs and different national origins. It is a worthy effort to set aside this period for thought and contemplation. However, we must take the message of Brotherhood/Sisterhood seriously throughout the entire year, not only for a span of a single month or special week.

Our tradition has no unique occasion called "Brotherhood/Sisterhood Day" or "Brotherhood/Sisterhood Month" and yet Judaism has always been vitally concerned with our relationships to others. If we understand the opening chapters of Genesis properly, we can readily see the framework, which Judaism sets for us and for our relationships with our fellow human beings. The foundation of Scripture is that all people have been created by God, and that we all bear God's stamp and imprint. Human beings are infused with worth and dignity, and responsibility for one another becomes a moral obligation, not merely an existential necessity.

Our sages ask the question why only one Adam was created by God and not more than one Adam. Their answer is significant: in order that no person might ever dare to say or imagine that his Adam was better than the Adam of someone else! And the dust which God took from the earth, to form the first human being was gathered from the four corners of the earth shows and teaches us that all people are equal in the eyes of God, and must be accorded similar opportunities for fulfillment, development, and personal happiness.

Jews, because of our history and tradition, must be the first to be concerned with the welfare and well-being of others. We are obligated to put brotherhood and sisterhood into practice on every level and in each area where we can. Only then will we be living up to the concept of one humanity as envisioned by the Prophet: "Have we not all one Parent? Did not One God create us all?" [Malachi 2:10]

President's Message February 2017

Greetings everyone. It's now deep winter but Madison is a busy place. In spite of the occasional bursts of cold and snow we continue to have services every Friday evening and Shabbat morning. We appreciate the efforts of all of you who come out of hibernation to attend. Our special events in January included Sisterhood Movie Night and an evening of ceramics and dinner. All who attended were mesmerized by the story of Maria Altman's efforts to recover "The Woman In Gold", a painting stolen by the Nazis. She was ultimately successful and the painting is now on permanent display at Ronald Lauder's Neue Galerie on 5th Avenue, Manhattan. More than 40 Madison members and friends had their own artistic experience decorating ceramic ware on a Saturday evening followed by an "all you can eat" dinner at Savor across the street. Finally, we had another flea market and "Maj and Mingle" afternoon.

This month we can look forward to our annual Super Bowl Party and games night on Sunday, February 5th. Deli will be served and reservations are a must. Our Tu B'Shevat Seder is on Friday evening, February 10th. Kings Highway United Methodist Church joins us for services Friday night, February 17th for our annual Sisterhood-Brotherhood Shabbat. Our Madison choir will be singing. Reverend Lashley will deliver the sermon. Then, returning the favor, Rabbi Kane will deliver a sermon at the United Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon, February 26th at 3:00 pm. Try to attend both services. Then, Friday evening, March 3rd we host a "Shabbat Across America" dinner. This is always a wonderful occasion. Details for these events are in flyers and on our website.

This month's "spotlight" falls on our own Rabbi Shae Kane. Rabbi Kane was born and raised in the Midwood section of Brooklyn. He and his family were members of Beth Sholom People's Temple, (currently Progressive Temple Beth Ahavat Sholom), where he celebrated his Bar Mitzvah and where he and his wife Arlene were married. He attended Lafayette High School and graduated from Pace University. He received his ordination from the Academy for Jewish Religion in New York City and received his honorary Doctor of Divinity degree in recognition of his more than twenty-five years of service in the Congregational Rabbinate. When asked why he decided to become a Rabbi he replied that his close and lasting relationship with his Hebrew School Rabbi was a major factor in his career choice. Rabbi Kane has served congregations in upstate New York, Connecticut, Long Island and Brooklyn. In addition, Rabbi Kane has been very active in community affairs. He is a member of the New York Board of Rabbis and is currently Vice President of the Brooklyn Board of Rabbis.

Rabbi Kane is married to the former Arlene Fisher (also a Brooklynite and Lafayette graduate). Arlene is a professional singer and stage director with degrees in music and theater. She is currently employing her musical talents as music teacher in our Hebrew School and is the director of the Madison Youth Choir. She is, also, using her creative talents composing flyers and posters for Hebrew School and Madison events. The Kanes have three children. Daughter Aviva and her husband Chris have an eight year old son, Dexter Ruel. Daughter Arielle and her husband Tom have a five year old son, Jacob Asher and a two year old daughter, Tessa Grace. Son Gabriel is currently on the staff of the Great Neck Public Library.

Rabbi Kane is honored to serve Madison Jewish Center and continues to be impressed with the warmth, enthusiasm and vitality of its members who represent the best of what Judaism and Brooklyn have to offer.

Shalom,

Roy

February, 2017

Dear Member of Madison,

I would like this letter to inform you that once again this year we are going to observe our annual long standing

Sisterhood/Brotherhood/Shabbat on Friday Evening February 17, 2017 at 7:30 pm
here at Madison Jewish Center.

As in the past, there will be an exchange of pulpits between myself and Reverend Chermain V. Lashley, Pastor of The Kings Highway United Methodist Church. Pastor Lashley will preach the sermon on Friday Evening February 17th here at Madison. The MJC Choir will be participating in the service that evening to welcome Pastor Lashley and the members of her congregation.

Also, at that service, we will welcome those who observe their birthdays and anniversaries during the month of February. Celebrants will be called to the front of the Sanctuary for the Friday Evening Kiddush and a special blessing will be recited in their honor.

On Sunday February 26, 2017 at 3:00 pm,

I will be preaching the sermon at the Kings Highway United Methodist Church at 1387 E. 37th Street (Corner of Kings Highway). There are some who say that I have given my best sermons in Church. You will have to be there so that you can make your own decision.

I look forward with great anticipation to this pulpit exchange and I eagerly anticipate greeting our members and the members of the United Methodist Church at each of these services.

Sincerely,

Rabbi Shae J. Kane D.D.
